THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

DICK REESE, son of Jeff High swim coach LEW REESE, lost some of his appetite for ice cream Wednesday at the annual Lions club Fishing Day at Lake Merced.

About noon all the kids quit fishing and went over to pick up ice cream provided by the Lions.

Pop Reese held the line while Dick made his short trip and no sooner had his son left than he tied into a 16-inch rainbow, the biggest fish caught that day.

JOHN BELFORTE, local recreation worker, took advantage of the close of college sessions to get hitched up June 19 to FRANCES LAGESON of Lafayette.

They just returned from a Tahoe honeymoon.

One of THE RECORD's satisfied readers, FRANK BRICKER, writes this week that he is keeping up with all the hometown news by reading our publication, but would like to get some news via personal mail, too.

He says to say hello to the Spudnut shop gang and ask them to drop him a line.

Annotation: Frank says, "It sure is hot where I'm stationed (near Palm Springs, Calif.) and it gets up to 158°."

Sound like the Chamber of Commerce down there is going a little overboard on that last statement.

Seal ballplayer JIM WESTLAKE, who is to be feted by Westlake merchants at "Westlake Night" July 22 in Seals Stadium, won't have too much hustle left if he uses up all the prizes to be given him.

A Westlake liquor establishment and a bar have each promised $20 in merchandise orders.

Don't tell manager TOMMY HEATH.

Typewriter tie-up?

In a recent press release the local North End Demo club said, "Spurred by the success of our candidates at the primaries, we are planning local level strategy."

Did you mean "spurred," Demos, or are things really that bad?

SALE OF SEWAGE DISTRICT BONDS CALLED AUGUST 9

Directors of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district Monday called for the sale of $200,000 in general obligation bonds to finance the district's $425,000 sewage treatment plant.

Sealed proposals will be received by the board August 9 at 2 p.m. at the district office, 7328 Mission street.

The bonds are part of an issue of $600,000 general obligation bonds authorized by district voters at an election held June 2, 1953.

Bonds to be sold August 9 will be in denomination of $1000 each, all dated July 1, 1953.

The first sale consisted of 300 bonds of $1000 denomination each, amounting to $300,000.

SANTA BARBARA AVE. RESIDENTS FIGHT MISSION AUTO LOT

Hearing on the controversial re-zoning of Santa Barbara avenue for a used car lot was cancelled Tuesday night because the city had neglected to post notice of the hearing.

The public hearing was moved up to July 27.

According to law, notice of any public hearing must be posted in the immediate area concerned for 10 days prior to the date of hearing.

Mario Ciampi is seeking to have property on Santa Barbara, across from the community center, zoned C-1 so that a used car lot may be established there.

Nearly 25 residents of the area were on hand Tuesday night to voice their opposition to re-zoning the property to commercial. It is now in R-3 (multiple dwelling) classification.

Main complaint of the Santa Barbara residents was that their children would be endangered by all the vehicles coming to and from the lot.

George Perada, 457 Santa Barbara, told the commission that a lot of dirt from the Ciampi property had been falling in his yard. He said he had tried to contact Ciampi about it but had been "ignored."

The section of Ciampi's property fronting on Mission street is already zoned commercial, but he is seeking to have the Santa Barbara property also classified commercial in order to have a rear entrance to the lot.

Lack of posting was the cause of another hearing being postponed Tuesday night and rescheduled July 27.

The hearing concerns application of Vignati Building and Realty Corp. to build houses on Niantic avenue between Knowles and West Parkview avenues. The Vignati firm seeks to divide the lots into 25 feet widths, with a 10-foot setback. Standard set-back is 15 feet.

Mrs. Sally Hink, 277 Wilshire, appeared before the commission Tuesday to re-apply for a permit to house boarders in her home in the Westlake subdivision.

The commission forwarded her application to City Attorney Frank Blum for a legal opinion on the matter.

Recommendation that Lots 3, 4, 7 and 8 in Block 63, Callan Heights tract, and lots 3, 4, 7 and 8 in Block 64 of the tract be annexed to Daly City was forwarded to the council by the commission.

Hearing on application of Henry Doelger for abandoning part of Park Plaza drive and Southgate avenue in Westlake Unit 3A was set for July 27.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY HIT BY CAR HERE

Four-year-old Ty Smith, 507 Hillside boulevard, suffered minor injuries Monday morning when he darted into the path of a car being driven by Peter Boysen Jr., 51, 126 Seville street, San Francisco. The accident, which occurred on Hillside boulevard near Thiers street, happened when Boysen was prevented from seeing the child by an oncoming car, according to a police report.

Hearing Is Closed On Sewer Rates

No written or oral protests were heard Monday as the North San Mateo County Sanitation district held a public hearing on setting annual sewage service rates for homeowners annexed into the district.

A charge of $9 a year per homeowner has been called for.

The $9 fee will affect approximately 25 residents of Colma, Incorporated, who four months ago were annexed to the Sanitation district.

Colma, unincorporated, is already part of the district.

The 25 Colma homes will be tied in with the main sewer line and use of septic tanks will no longer be allowed.

Directors of the district closed the hearing Monday and will vote on the $9 fee at their next meeting.

City Not Notified Of Board Actions, Andersen Claims

City Administrator Dan Andersen, in a letter to County Supervisor Thomas Callan Sr., of Colma, this week rebuked Callan's statement made July 8 that, "I inform the city council whenever something affecting Daly City is coming up at the board meetings, but they never show up."

Callan made the remark in attacking his fellow supervisors for deeding 24 acres of Thornton beach near Daly City to the state.

Callan said deeding of the land to the state was unfair to the north county. One reason, he said, that this end of the county was neglected was because "nobody ever comes down here to help me out," referring to the city council.

Andersen's letter to Callan said, "You stated that you inform the city council whenever something affecting Daly City is coming up at the board meetings, but no one on the city council has ever received any communication from you relative to transactions in which we might be concerned. The council would, however, appreciate your considering them and informing them so that a representative could be present whenever it is necessary."

The letter concluded with, "It is our intention in the city of Daly City to cooperate with you and the other members of the board of supervisors at any and all times."

In connection with Callan's statements of last week which appeared in THE RECORD, the following correction should be noted. Arthur Bodien, former superintendent of the city, was not present at the meeting.

CALLAN HEIGHTS BATTLE CARRIES ON AT COUNCIL

Ricco Lagomarsino and Thomas Callan Jr., continued their running battle over the Callan Heights district Monday night at the city council study session.

The disagreement resulted in the council's decision to petition the county to approve only the Valley Knowles and 90th street $75 home-stead improvement assessments. The Callan Heights No. 2 petition will wait until agreement can be reached by the two property owners.

Public hearing on formation of a street assessment district in the area is set for July 26.

Upon the suggestion of Councilman Sanford Vickers, a list of factors contributing to disagreement was made.

In the matter of Atlantic street, Callan is for the development of a full street, while Lagomarsino said that he objects to any development at all. Since Lagomarsino apparently does not intend to build for several years, the street work would increase the value thereby raising taxes.

Lagomarsino also objected to paying engineer's fees. He said he saw no reason why he should pay for something already done.

Agreement was reached on subject of sidewalk and curbing price when Lagomarsino said he would abide by the decision of City Administrator Dan Anderson on the matter.

Klassen Again Asks Pay From Council

Civil Engineer Robert Klassen renewed efforts to gain $6,657.12 from the city of Daly City at the council meeting Monday night.

In a letter to the council, which was referred to City Attorney Frank Blum, Klassen said, "Despite newspaper reports to the contrary, I have not filed suit. 'If you do not intend to use my services any longer, do you intend to pay my bill?' he asked.

Action on Klassen's bill is pending court decision on the suit brought against the city by Bragato Paving company. The company and Klassen both wish payment for work done on the Brunswick street extension. The city refuses payment on the grounds that a wall, designed by Klassen and built by Bragato company, fell and caused considerable damage to the area.

Council Under Fire By Tavern Owner

George Kirchhubel, owner of Hilltop lodge at 6296 Mission street, Monday night attacked the city council's recent recommendation to the police commission to investigate his place of business.

The question of how Kirchhubel found out details of the investigation is unanswered. Only the council and the press were present at the July 6 meeting when the probe was decided upon.

"The police commission is tied up in politics," he exclaimed. "I'm working with the police now to keep a clean place, and I don't think it's fair to pick on me," he told the council.

Most of the tavern owner's attack was aimed at Councilman Sanford Vickers, who recently visited Kirchhubel's bar to check on rumors of illegal enterprise.

Complaints against the place have ranged from alleged narcotics peddling to serving liquor to minors.

"I don't serve any kids," Kirchhubel answered a charge by Vickers, "and I always ask for identification cards."

An item in the column "The Town Record" in a recent issue of THE RECORD also came under fire by the tavern owner. The item stated that the city council planned to investigate a "top of the hill" nightery, but did not name Kirchhubel's bar.

"This bad publicity is going to ruin my business," he complained, "when all I'm trying to do is make an honest living!"

DC POLICE TURN BURGLARY OVER TO SM SHERIFF

Daly City police turned a burglary complaint over to the county sheriff's office yesterday (Wednesday) when it was found the burglary occurred in the first house outside of the incorporated area of the city.

Fred Alvino, 193 First avenue, filed a complaint Monday claiming the loss of a refrigerator, radio, brownie camera and a leather jacket. Alvino also said that the burglars took fish and meat in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator, but left other goods on the kitchen table.

Also left were jewelry, silverware and money.

The theft apparently occurred while Alvino was away at work. Entry was made through a small window in the basement.

BOY'S PARENTS SUE DALY CITY FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

A claim against Daly City for $10,000 damages was among the communications read before the city council Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Matysik, 444 Westlake avenue, have filed suit for personal injuries and damages allegedly suffered by their three-year-old son, Steven, when he fell from a circular slide at Marchbanks park last May 8.

The council, on a unanimous vote, decided to deny the claims and turned the matter over to City Attorney Frank Blum.

The Matysiks charge that the slide was in a "dangerous and defective" condition and that there was no proper supervision at the park. They are being represented by the firm of Donohue, Sumner & McElroy of San Francisco.

The city council also passed unanimously a resolution making payment of $10,988.10 to contractor W. A. Moroney upon completion of work by architect Louis B. Baldini on Fire House No. 5 in Westlake.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy told the council that he thought the work would be finished within a week or ten days.

The progress payment, which will be made from the 1952 Fire bond fund, leaves a balance due of $12,710.50 from the total payment of $77,227.

A total of $17,184.60 was also made payable to Hart & Hynding, Inc., for work on Westlake reservoir No. 1. Payment will be made from the 1952 Water bond fund.

Gus Ford, acting superintendent of the Water department, told the council that he expected work to be completed within 30 days.

Another payment from the 1952 Water bond fund, totaling $5,670, was granted to the Bernal Construction company for completion of a sand trap at the Westlake Water plant.

Other matters taken up by the council included a resolution canceling taxes on the Westlake unit No. 5A which has been sold to the state by Henry Doelger Building, Inc., for the purpose of building a state highway.

The council also heard a letter from the Division of Highways stating that they would paint the pedestrian walk on the north leg of the intersection at Knowles avenue and Mission street.

The painting is being done at the request of City Administrator Dan Anderson who asked the division to review traffic conditions at the intersection.

Police Officer Attacks Superior, Charges Say

COP CLAIMS STORY IS JUST REVERSED

Daly City police officer James Baird Jr., 35, will appear at a police commission hearing Tuesday night at 8 p.m. to answer charges that he threatened to attack Sgt. Dean Wood with a billy club early Sunday morning.

According to a report from Lieut. Roy Beecher filed with the police commission Tuesday night, Baird took offense at orders given by Wood, leaped over a table in the squad room at the local station and brandished a police billy club in front of Wood, officer in charge.

Baird was suspended from the force effective Monday.

Beecher said Baird was angered because he had been called down the previous day by Wood for handling a call outside the city limits.

Tells Regulation

When changing shifts Sunday morning at 12:45 a.m., the report said, Wood told all officers assembled in the squad room not to leave the city limits unless in pursuit of a vehicle or instructed to do so by him.

Baird, who had the previous day answered a call 8/10 of a mile out of the city limits on the coast highway, thought that Wood was ridiculing him in front of the other officers. Beecher's report continued.

According to Beecher's statement, Baird then "shook his finger at Sgt. Wood, called him a profane name and started over toward the desk after Wood."

Officers Phillip La Bruzzo, Gerald Shaeffer and Robert Crocker intervened and the argument was apparently settled, the report read.

Step In Again

But a short time later the officers had to step in again after Baird's temper flared up.

A few minutes later the argument resumed again. Officers said that Baird came at Wood, swinging a billy club. La Bruzzo then moved in, pinned Baird's arms behind him and shoved him out of the squad room, the report related.

In concluding his message to the commission, Beecher said Baird was "not properly qualified to be on the police force."

Baird, who resides at 85 Orange street, has been a member of the force for three years.

Last year he was suspended 30 days for "unofficer-like conduct."

Different Story

Baird's story of the incident differed radically from Beecher's report obtained from Wood and officers on duty.

The suspended officer said he had responded to an accident about a mile outside of the city limits "on orders of Sgt. Dave Hansen."

"It's always been my under-

City Council To Meet As Board Of Equalization

The city council will meet as the Board of Equalization after the regular study session next Monday, it was announced by Mayor Joseph Verducci at last Monday's meeting.

The board will hear complaints on rates and assessments by property owners.

Once a year the council meets as the Board of Equalization.

Muni OKs Transit Proposal

Before an audience of less than a dozen people Monday, the San Francisco public utilities commission approved a Daly City proposal which will continue the operation of Municipal buses here on a trial basis for six months.

The commission voted 4 to 1 in favor of the Daly City proposal, which will eliminate transfers on the No. 56 (cemeteries) bus line and reduce to one the number of buses on the No. 76 (Westlake-Broadmoor) line.

Purpose of the transfer abandonment on the No. 56 and eliminating one bus on the No. 76 is to minimize or do away with the muni's annual $61,000 operating loss for the two buses.

3 Months Negotiation

Monday's action marked the termination of three months of negotiation between Daly City and San Francisco, after the public utilities commission had given Daly City an ultimatum to either cut the losses or lose the bus service.

The PUC's approval of the rate and route changes will be passed on to the San Francisco board of supervisors as a recommendation. The board must then OK the changes before they can go into effect.

The matter is not expected to come up for vote until a week brought in annually by the No. 56. Eliminating one coach from the No. 76 line is expected to save an estimated $30,546.10 annually, according to the plan.

However, Daly City officials say under the set-up, there will be no reduction in service.

There will be no change in the five-cent fare for school children which is in effect on both lines.

"Enough Interest"

Dan Andersen, city administrator, in urging passage of the resolution, told the commissioners, "I think we can get enough rider in-from Monday, since the board first assigns the PUC's recommendation to committee.

If approval is granted by the board, the PUC then determines at what time the changes shall be operative.

According to the Muni railway figures, annual deficit on the No. 76 has been approximately $40,000 a year, while the No. 56 loses $20,000 each year.

Under the proposal approved by the PUC Monday, the loss on both lines would be insignificant; in the neighborhood of $200.

15-cent Fare

When the proposal goes into effect, a 15-cent fare will be charged in Daly City on the No. 56 for passengers travelling from downtown San Francisco. This is expected to bring in additional revenue of $28,491.45 above the $34,722.75 already terest on the two lines to make them profitable."

Putting in a surprise appearance at the meeting were A. R. Linn, representing the Peninsula Bus Lines, and John E. Sullivan, representing Westmoor Transit Co.

Following the muni ultimatum to Daly City in May, both of these firms had offered to provide transportation for Daly City.

The council later agreed to discontinue negotiations with these firms until it was determined what the Muni railway planned to do.

Offer Service

Linn and Sullivan both said that their purpose in attending the PUC meeting was to inform Daly City and San Francisco representatives that they were ready to offer service in Daly City if called on to do so.

Mayor Joseph Verducci arose and told the commission that, "We decided to deal with these outside firms only if negotiations with the Muni railway fell through."

Commissioner Edward Baron, the lone hold-out against extending Daly City transportation, said, "In the face of our experience, service should not be given beyond the San Francisco county line unless the city of Daly City will guarantee to underwrite any losses. Over the years we have operated in San Mateo county we have consistently experienced financial losses."

"Losses Insignificant"

John Russo, chairman of the commission said, "After all, the losses will only be insignificant under the new set-up."

Baron countered by saying, "That's just what I would like to see them underwrite the losses. If they're only going to be in neighborhood of $200, I should think the city would be willing to pay that much to maintain their transportation."

The chairman pointed out that, "Daly City's charter forbids subsidizing of transportation."

"Then I say it's a very convenient law for Daly City but not too good for San Francisco," Baron complained.

Baron was alone in his opposition and the final count went in favor of extending the service, 4 to 1.

Approval was given with the with a proposal to continue bus service here. Commissioners voted 4 to 1 in favor of a rate and route change which is hoped will minimize the Municipal bus stipulation that Daly City officials would work to promote rider interest on the two lines. The city administrator said the council would do everything in their power to promote the two lines.

He said appropriate publicity would be given the two lines to spur passenger traffic.

"Must Support Lines"
After the meeting Andersen told the press, "We've got to support Muni that they can operate here without a deficit. It's up to the people of Daly City to support the buses. If losses aren't minimized in the six-months trial period, there's a good chance Muni transportation here will be lost for good."

Under the route approved Monday, the No. 76 bus will start at the "Top of the Hill" on Mission street, go down Knowles to the Westlake area, turn into Dorchester and up South Mayfair to Ashland, across Ashland to Southgate to 87th street in Broadmoor, down 87th to Washington and around Washington to the overpass, up Junipero Serra to Knowles and back to Mission street again.

Opposite Direction
In the morning hours the route will be the same, but will go the opposite direction, travelling to Broadmoor first and then through Westlake, back up to Mission.

Starting at about 2 p.m. the route will be reversed. Andersen said under this operation, citizens of Daly City will be provided fast transportation to and from work.

Transfer privileges will be given between the No. 56 and No. 76 buses, but only with the San Mateo county limits.

City officials present at Monday's meeting were Andersen, Verducci, Councilmen Del Wilson and Michael De Bernardi.

Maryann Read, director on the Broadmoor Property Owners' association, represented Broadmoor.

Callan Heights Battle Carries On At Council

The Valley Knowles and 90th street homestead improvement assessments still stand to be approved by the council if passed by the county supervisors.

The council also approved an ordinance allowing the building of wooden structures on Mission street. Fire Chief Kennedy emphasized the fact that the change in the building code would hinder fire protection in the area.

An ordinance rezoning Happy Homestead area, which had already been approved by the Planning commission, was passed unanimously by the council.

Resolutions to assess persons in the East Broadmoor area for street improvements and to grant a Junipero Serra street motel use permit were agreed to by the council.

A total of $1,025 was granted to City Engineer Edwin H. Smith after slight discussion by the members.

Del Wilson objected, "It keeps going up. We ought to do somestanding that it's a policeman's duty to protect lives and property.

"This was a bad accident and some of the people appeared to have head injuries. I took them to Junipero Serra hospital in the police car and when I got there Wood started blasting me for going outside the city limits."

Baird "let the matter go," he said.

The next night in the squad room "Wood started blasting again about officers going outside the city limits," Baird indicated it wasn't a general order, "Because he was looking straight at me when he said it." Baird said Wood was trying to "belittle" him in front of the other men.

Shouts At Baird

"I asked Wood if that wasn't an order going into effect as of tonight and he took off on me again, shouting that the order came straight from the police regulations."

"I reminded him that I was acting on orders from Hanson but don't recall all that was said after that."

"First thing I know he bats me across the face, breaking my glasses. I was stunned. If anybody gets hit like that they're going to retaliate but the part about swinging clubs is assinine."

Neither he nor Wood brandished clubs, according to Baird.

"I know I'm wrong," Baird said, "but I don't think there's anything in the regulations that says your superiors can shove you around like that."

Should Have Relieved

"He should have just relieved me of duty for the night and let it go at that, but he kept jumping me."

"I don't know why when there's an episode like this one policeman is suspended while the other is allowed to continue working."

Baird contended that he should have been given an immediate hearing to tell his side of the story.

The officer's suspension will remain in effect until action is taken by the police commission.

Wood, who was just made sergeant by action of the city council July 1, has been a member of the Daly City force for 11 years.

thing about it. Is there any end?"

Mayor Joseph Verducci replied the payment is part of the bond issue. Andersen, in answer to a question by Michael De Bernardi, explained that there is no contract involved.

Correspondence Monday night included a letter of resignation from William Pinney who said he is forced to give up his membership on the Planning commission as he is moving from the city. Verducci asked the city attorney to write a letter of commendation.

A letter from Judge Thomas L. Bocci expressing thanks for sympathy on his father's death also was read.

tendent of the water department, was said to have been in favor of deeding Thornton beach to the state because it would be too costly for Daly City to develop the area.

This is incorrect. Bodien has consistently worked for development of Thornton beach as a city park. He favored taking over the land on a $1 a year lease basis, and was opposed to turning the land over to the state.

JEFF SCHOOLS DENY CORPORAL PUNISHMENT USE

The Jefferson elementary school district as a general rule has not had occasion to resort to corporal punishment, even though it is authorized as a last resort in the district personnel guide.

In view of general interest in the claim by Mrs. Audrey Phillips, 110 West Avalon avenue, Sharp Park, that Principal Donald Himes twice beat and bruised her 12-year-old son, educators in the Jefferson districts were contacted this week as to their views on corporal punishment.

"It is possible that there have been instances in which corporal punishment has been inflicted," explained Supervisor H. Z. Weibel, "however, it has never been brought to my attention."

He added that there are often parents who request corporal punishment be used on their own children if it is felt they need it, but these children appear to need it the least.

Weibel Praises District

Weibel names the far-sighted district as the reason for the non-use of corporal punishment. He states that the provision of a reasonable amount of funds enables the schools to secure well-qualified teachers.

"Generally speaking, good teachers make the program of instruction so appealing to children there is little need for severe methods in dealing with them," Weibel continued.

Weibel went on to explain that authority to administer corporal punishment is given to the principal or vice-principal in order to cover recalcitrant child-behavior, which exhausts the ingenuity and patience of the best-qualified teacher.

Policy Specifies

The policy requires that a witness be present at the time and that no cruel or unusual punishment be inflicted. Any person who causes unjustifiable physical or mental pain is guilty of a misdemeanor.

All of the principals contacted except one denied the use of corporal punishment. Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, newly-chosen principal of Westlake school, said that she had not formed a policy.

"I believe in dealing with a child as if he were my own," explained Miss Winifred McGrath, principal of General Pershing school. She continued that talking it over with the child and taking away privileges benefitted more than corporal punishment.

Thoroughly Disapproves

"Absolutely not, I thoroughly disapprove of corporal punishment," replied Miss Margerie Tobias, principal of the Olympia and Benjamin Franklin schools, when asked her opinion. She added that "guidance and counseling" were the best measures.

Mrs. Eleanor Zenovich, principal of the Crocker and 87th Street school, named "whatever is the board's policy" as her policy. She continued that she had never had to resort to "that sort of thing" at her schools.

No corporal punishment is used at all in the high schools, according to School Board Chairman Lyle Ingorsoll.

"It simply doesn't fit into high school," explained John Mongan, Jefferson High school vice-principal. "Since I started here in 1938 I have never seen it used," he said. "Rather we refer cases to the parents."

WORK ON BROADMOOR CENTER AWAITS PROPERTY SURVEY

The go-ahead on Broadmoor's $18,000 recreation building awaits a final property survey, the Broadmoor Property owners building committee told the board of directors Thursday night.

The building group said that final drawings of the community structure would be presented to the board at their next regular meeting, August 12.

The building, to be of gymnasium type, will be located next to the present Broadmoor community center.

Golden Gate Park in San Francisco contains 1013 acres, crisscrossed by motor roads, foot paths and equestrian trails.

AN ENTERPRISE of the congregation is the newly-completed Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene, located at Washington and Edgeworth streets. The structure was built almost entirely by the pastor and members of his congregation at an approximate cost of $28,000 and is valued at $55,000. Services are now being conducted at the church on a regular schedule. Pastor is the Rev. L. W. Coey.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? But whom sayest thou? (Matthew 16:13,15.)

It was two o'clock in the morning. The clang of the telephone awakened me. A hospital was calling. A sailor was dying. The nurse said he kept crying, "I'm not fit to die." Then she added, "He's barely breathing; he won't last till you get here. What you do will have to be done by phone."

"They held the phone for him! I asked, 'Were you ever shipwrecked?' 'I heard his answer—' 'Ome.' 'How were you saved?' 'They threw me a line.' 'What did you do?' 'I grabbed it and held on, and they pulled me in.'"

The I said, "Christ is throwing the line to you. Grab it. Grab it now and—hold on." I kept on until he said, "I've got hold." The next morning the nurse said, "His last whispered word was, 'Tell the preacher I held on.'"

All that the best of us can do is to cry in faith, "Simply to Thy cross I cling."

PRAYER

O God, our God, we have all sinned and come short of Thy glory. Our only hope is in Christ who tasted death for all the world—even for us. Hear us and help us for His sake. We pray in His holy name. Amen.

JEFF ELEMENTARY DISTRICT OWES $24,931.81

Jefferson Elementary School owes a total of $24,931.81 in interest charges on money borrowed from the public school building loan fund, State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood revealed today.

Jefferson's total of interest money due the state was third highest among San Mateo county's districts. Ravenswood district owed $44,706.28, the highest amount, while Redwood City was second at $40,840.72.

Interest owed by the local elementary district has accumulated since the fiscal year 1950-51, the controller said.

Majority of the interest due, $18,409.57, was charged on loans made during the 1952-53 fiscal year.

Kirkwood said the law requires the controller to compute interest on the unpaid balances of amounts disbursed from the fund.

At the time the state allocation board makes an appropriation to a school district from the fund, it fixes the rate of interest to be paid by the district on the sum appropriated to it. By law, this is a rate equal to the effective rate paid by the state on the state bonds sold to finance the school district loan program.

Wrong Address Causes Confusion In City Council

City council members agreed Monday night that they had seen a letter from the Daly City Employees association asking a blanket wage increase during a budget session about a month ago.

The trouble had apparently arisen from the fact that the letter was addressed to the Civil Service board of review and not to the council.

"We should adopt a set policy on matters of this sort," Mayor Joseph Verducci told the meeting, and asked City Administrator Dan Andersen to investigate.

The problem arose at the July 6 study session when charges were made that the council had been bypassed on the letter.

Councilman Sanford Vickers claimed that he had never even heard of the letter until the previous week. Mayor Verducci, although he said he "was not sure," could not recall the letter.

The council approved the board of review's recommendations, granting raises to only five employees. Bad feeling over the part of some city employees had apparently arisen when it was thought the council did not consider their request before determining the budget.

ALLOW ENOUGH TIME

One of the wisest things a motorist can do, says the California State Automobile Association, is to allow enough time to reach his destination without hurrying. Hurry in an automobile often results in errors of judgment, chance-taking and recklessness, all of which are dangerous.

Ridgely Cummings Reports

JOB'S SORROWS
My desk dictionary defines a sty as "an inflamed swelling of a sebaceous gland at the margin of an eyelid."
I have a desk dictionary these days and I think that may be one of the reasons I have a sty.
Back in the carefree days when I was a free lance writer and didn't know where my next meal was coming from, nothing was ever wrong with me. But now that I've been on a payroll for a couple of months, I've become a veritable Job. The poor guy in the Bible only had boils but one physical misfortune after another afflicts me.
My first week on the job I cut a dashing appearance — smooth skin, bristly waving hair, ruddy complexion, clear eyes.
Then I started falling apart.
First I broke out with a brace of pimples across my face. Since adolescence is a long way behind me, I was puzzled.
Perhaps it's from eating too much, I thought, for now that I'm working steadily I follow the example of my confreres and eat five times a day.
Two of these nutrition periods are presumably for coffee but because coffee time is an opportunity for the policy makers to get together and plan publicity programs, we usually add cantaloupe or grapefruit in the morning and ice cream and cake in the afternoon. The additional food gives us something to do with our hands and enables me at least to appear to be listening intelligently.
I cut out the extra nourishment for a few days but the rash spread anyway. My fellow-workers consoled me by suggesting that I had contracted some rare and incurable form of skin disease.
They urged a visit to a dermatologist and I would have succumbed if it were not for my deathly fear of doctors.
Finally, with the aid of 75-year old woman who came to this country fifty years ago from Russia and has never lost her accent, I solved the mystery. She gave me some new shaving cream for my birthday. To please her I used it. My face healed up. Then I went back to my electric razor and it erupted again.
By shrewd deduction I discovered that one of the teeth in the head of the razor was broken and every time I plugged in the electric shaver I was cutting holes in my cheeks.
I took the razor to an appliance shop, had a new head installed, and soon got back my schoolboy complexion.
But about that time my eyes went back on me.
In the last two months I've had three styes, or rather two and am currently suffering with the third.
Styes are an ancient affliction and if I don't recover from this one soon I'm going to do some deep research on the problem. A cursory look at the record indicates that the word comes from early Anglo-Saxon and can mean either "a filthy, low and vicious place," or "styaney," the early English form of saying a sty on the eye.
There may be some connection between a sty and the adjective Stygian, meaning gloomy or infernal and pertaining to the river Styx, the chief river of the lower world in Greek mythology, the body of water which the shades had to cross on their way to the infernal regions.
Certainly it is an extremely depressing malady, carrying with it overtones of guilt.
The switchboard girl, a cheerful little minx whom I usually greet with a smile, asked me what was the matter this morning. I explained about the sty and she assured me it was barely noticeable,

MORE THAN 3500 DRUNK DRIVERS IN ROAD DEATHS

Latest reports, compiled by the National Safety Council from the fatal accident records of police departments throughout the nation, indicate that more than 3500 drunk drivers were involved in fatal accidents last year.
Iver C. Larson, executive vice president of the San Francisco Chapter of the Council, charged that "sale of liquor by bartenders to obviously drunk persons is a contributing cause of this slaughter."
Tests, conducted by the Council and other agencies, show that drinking drivers are three to four times more likely to be involved in accidents than non-drinkers, Larson said.
The Safety Council executive, in an appeal to tavern owners, urged "the fullest cooperation with traffic authorities and the general public in the statewide effort to cut the traffic death toll."
Larson pointed out that the liquor industry, with its record as an outstanding contributing cause to the annual motor vehicle blood-letting, should acknowledge its responsibility and take stern action against owners and bartenders who serve liquor to obvious drunks. "This is a moral duty they owe to humanity. Turning a drunk loose on the streets—whether he walks or drives—is inviting one or more deaths," he charged.

SEWER PROBLEM BEING IMPROVED

For many years, the raw sewage from Daly City has been discharged on to the San Francisco beach, about a mile south of Fleischhacker pool.

The scene at the point of outfall was unsightly and highly dangerous to the health of Bay Area residents.

Today, following installation of an ocean outfall line by the North San Mateo County Sanitation district, one would hardly recognize the sewage disposal site.

The outfall, which went into operation last month, carries sewage all the way into the ocean, instead of dumping it far up on the beach.

The waste matter is conducted to the low water into the ocean through a 24-inch cement-lined extra heavy cast-iron pipe, supported on steel H-piles driven 17 feet into solid rock below the sand level.

It's still raw

It is still raw sewage being mixed with the ocean breakers, but as soon as the district's new sewage treatment plant, approved by district voters at a special election last year, is completed and placed in operation, the clarified and chlorinated effluent will mingle with the ocean waters beyond the beach in a manner that will satisfy all health and aesthetic requirements of sewage disposal.

The district's new plant, to cost $425,000, is already in early stages of construction. The site is located just north of Lake Merced boulevard at intersection with Alameda boulevard in Westlake.

When completed, about the first of next year, the plant will have a capacity of 4.5 million gallons of sewage daily, corresponding to a population capacity of some 50,000 or double the present population of the district, which includes Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor.

Primary Treatment

The plant will be of the primary treatment type, with a digester tank, which breaks down the organic solids, and clarifier tank, which liquefies the matter further. In addition, there will be pumps, chlorinating equipment and offices for directors of the district.

The plant will not be an eyesore on the community, the directors say, but to the contrary, will be a modernistic type structure attractively landscaped.

The treatment of sewage, in fast-growing communities like Daly City and its fringe areas, has ceased to be a trivial problem.

In line with recent state legislation which forbids dumping of raw sewage into the ocean, Daly City residents have had to act fast.

Early in 1953 the North San Mateo County Sanitation district will be able to boast one of the most modern and efficient sewage treatment operations in the state.

LION

By Joseph Bell Jr.

The first official board of directors meeting was held on Monday evening, July 12, 1954. Eleven directors were present and many topics were discussed. It was decided that the membership committee comprising Lions Jack Price and Hal Willis will send letters to the non-attending members to see what their reasons are for not attending the weekly meetings. It will be decided at the next board meeting, on August 9, what the outcome of these certain members will be. Also discussed at the meeting was a Lions Dance to be held sometime in October, probably the 16th. Lion Roy Arneson will be chairman of this event with the assistance of Lion Nate Temkin in charge of the souvenir program and Lion Ray Savage in charge of the refreshments. It will be held at the Daly City War Memorial Building.

The board also agreed one hundred percent to adopt the following objectives for the year and they are as follows: First, a substantial net increase in membership. Second, an attendance average of at least 85 per cent. Third, full representation at the conventions. Fourth, a sound financial program. Fifth, a membership well informed on Lionism. Sixth, a comprehensive program of community activities. Seventh, interesting and diversified programs at our regular meetings. Eighth, local recognition through effective publicity. Ninth, making club more valuable to members. Tenth, increased fellowship through social functions.

The regular meeting on Wednesday, July 21, will be a joint meeting with the South San Francisco Lions Club. Lion Ira Neville has charge of the program for that day. The speaker for the day will be a representative from the Ford Motor company.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

The Opera Ring at the Theater Arts Colony, 1725 Washington street, is currently offering Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Telephone" and "The Medium." Both are contemporary, are sung in English and are presented in-the-round by Irma Kay, who came to the Bay Area from Philadelphia where she introduced this style of opera presentation a few years ago.

The curtain raiser is the twenty-minute "The Telephone," a satire on the woman who is infatuated with telephoning. Lucy, sung by Harriette Stewart, is a bubble head in love with her telephone and totally oblivious of Ben's heroic efforts to squeeze his proposal of marriage in edgewise between her interminable telephone conversations. Foiled in his attempted mayhem on the defenseless telephone, Ben, sung by Byron Jones, takes the only action left to him. What this action is you must discover for yourself.

"The Medium" with its atmosphere of quackery and squalor is an effective contrast to the light hearted opener, and both Miss Stewart and Byron Jones display their versatility in their portrayal of the middle-aged Mr. and Mrs. Gobeau who visit Madame Flora regularly, deluded by her into thinking that they hear the laugh of their little son, long since dead. Accompanying them is Mrs. Nolan, sung by Margot Blum, who gives a touching picture of a pathetic soul hoping to speak to her dead daughter.

Of course the meaty role of the opera belongs to the Medium, and Destal Thornbury as Madame Flora takes full advantage of it, from the cynicism of the seance in the first act through the rage, remorse and drink-blurred fears which are aroused by the inexplicable happenings during the seance, and climaxing in the murder of Toby, which closes the second act.

What little happiness that exists in this dim world is found in the relationship between Madame Flora's daughter, capably sung by Dorotea Masi, and Toby a deaf-mute, mimed by Russell Sage. The orchestra is represented by Arthur Wilson at the piano.

Performances with alternate casts will be given from Thursday through Sunday night each week until August 1. This type of opera presentation is an interesting example of what a little imagination and ingenuity can do with limited resources, and to one who feels that there can never be too much opera, they are a welcome addition to the local scene.

JEFF SCHOOLS TO EMPLOY NEW PAYMENT PLANS

Both the Jefferson Elementary and High school districts will establish compromising versions of the new payroll procedure plan involving deferred payments recommended by the County Board of Education.

New high school teachers will be paid according to the new system, while teachers already on the staffs will remain on the old plan, according to Supervisor Stanford Hannah.

The elementary district plans to employ the new plan for teachers hired in 1953 and thereafter. Teachers hired before 1953 have a choice between the two systems.

"Most of the teachers have decided to stay with the old scheme," explained Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, "because they can't afford to miss the payment in August in each of two years."

More teachers may decide upon the new plan if a proposed arrangement with the California Teachers association credit union goes into effect, according to Weibel. The proposal, which will be decided upon in the Fall, will mean that a small deduction will be made from a teacher's salary to be deposited with the credit union. They payments will build up and then be paid in lieu of salary in the month of August.

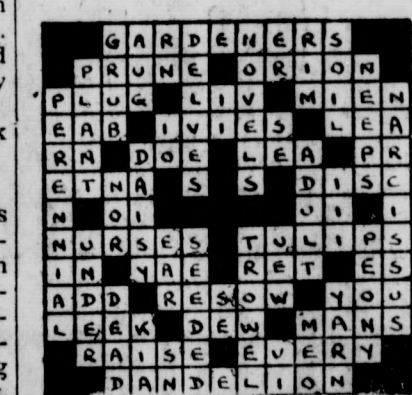

A preponderant majority of the county school districts have adopted the new plan, according to County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey. Tormey said that of the 29 operating school districts of the county, 20 had already taken action to put the new system into effect.

The system currently in use by the bulk of the districts involves "advance" salary payments for July and August to teachers which, Tormey explains, leaves the teacher owing money to the district until late Spring.

The new plan provides for withholding a portion of the first 10 payments during the school year, and paying these as deferred salary for the months of July and August.

Tormey explained that under the deferred payment system, there are advantages to both district and teacher. The district, by carrying over the deferred salary payments, decreases the amount of money which it must borrow.

Teachers' benefits arise when a teacher's service with a district is severed during the year for any reason, including death. Under the "advance" payment plan, the teacher or the teacher's estate had to pay back to the district the advance payments still owed. Under the new plan, payments would be owed the teacher or the teacher's estate in event of mid-year service severance.

Work On Skyline Relocation Proceeds On Schedule; Completion Set In Fall

Re-locating of 2.2 miles of Skyline boulevard in northern San Mateo county will be completed by October 1, the state highway department has announced.

L. A. Weymouth, district engineer, said that grading of the four-lane expressway from Alameda extension near Westlake in the north to Edgemar road in the south is nearing completion.

The $650,000 project was called for by the state highway department in November, 1952, after the present two-lane Skyline road was deemed inadequate for the heavy traffic. An estimated 8000 cars travel the Skyline each day on weekends, while 3500 a day use the route during the week.

In re-routing the highway, the many curves are being straightened out, which is also expected to eliminate some of the hazards on the foggy route.

Weymouth said that there will be four intersections along the 2.2 mile section, making it an expressway, rather than a freeway. At a later date the highway department may enlarge the route to a six-lane freeway.

"Movement of traffic will be aided considerably," Weymouth said. "Especially during periods of heavy fog."

Until the Skyline is extended from Edgemar road down into Edgemar, traffic from Sharp Park and other coastside communities will probably continue using the Coast highway. Long-range plans of the highway department call for extending Skyline into Edgemar.

This would enable the state to abandon that section of the Coast highway from Edgemar to the Alameda extension intersection at Thornton beach.

In planning the Skyline relocation two years ago, district highway engineer B. W. Booker had said that section of the Coast highway in San Mateo county would have to be abandoned because of the tremendous cost of maintenance. Erosion from above and pounding of the surf from below cause perennial slides on the highway.

Booker said the highway would have to be relocated at a cost of $3,000,000.

However, as yet the state has announced no further plans for relocation of Coast Highway.

FORMAL DEDICATION FOR CHILDREN'S WING AT CITY OF HOPE HOSPITAL HELD

Formal dedication of the new $500,000 children's wing of the City of Hope national medical center took place Sunday.

Financing of the wing was through a national campaign in which Daily City participated.

The only ward in the hospital, equipped with 32 cribs, it will be devoted entirely to the care and treatment of little patients suffering from cancer and leukemia.

By courtesy of Walt Disney, rooms of the children's wing are to be decorated with world-famous cartoon characters, including Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Snow White, Bambi and many others.

Each of the rooms will be named after a Walt Disney character.

A drive has been started for little helpers of the City of Hope among youngsters everywhere.

Parents are urged to enroll their children. Membership is $1 per child, and will bring a special little helper button and card signed by Roy Rogers, the children's favorite cowboy.

Mrs. Charlotte Arko, chairman for the "Crusade" for Daily City, will be stationed in McCraw's Drug Store Monday through Saturday of next week to accept all memberships. As an added attraction, there will be given with each membership card a ticket for a chance at a pure-bred collie puppy. The winner will be announced at the close of the drive.

The City of Hope Auxiliary 289, Daily City, urges all of the parents to enroll their children, nieces, nephews cousins or anyone that may be interested in helping fight this dread disease, leukemia, which takes more children's lives every year than any other disease known.

The City of Hope is a free, non-sectarian hospital for treatment of cancer, leukemia, heart diseases and tuberculosis.

For any information on the "City," Lynne Boskey, PL. 6-1856, or Charlotte Arko, PL. 5-8059, may be contacted.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Here Lags

The Daily City fund drive to obtain money for a Girl Scout camp in Sonoma is still short more than $6000, chairman Peter Markovich said this week.

The chairman said that of the $8000 goal sought, only $1412 has been collected here.

The overall campaign, which is being conducted in northern San Mateo county, has netted a total of $6100.

Markovich explained that the drive would be continued for another five months.

All funds collected will go towards building the camp, which is to serve 2700 Girl Scouts in the north county area. Out of this total, 876 of the girls are from Daily City, Markovich added.

Markovich said that donations of $25 from each person are being sought. The pledge is put on a five-year basis, so that only 35 is paid each year, he pointed out.

However, donations of lumber and other equipment will also aid the drive, he continued.

County Jr. Museum Names Second Member Of Staff

The second staff member for the San Mateo County Junior Museum on Coyote Point was named this week, when Charles A. Hice, 35, from Garden Grove, Orange County, became curator.

Hice will be in charge of the live animal shelter and also assist in the preparation of exhibits, and the educational program.

The museum is expected to open in August.

Hice has long been associated with the instruction of young people. For five years he was an agricultural extension instructor at Mesa College, Grand Junction, Colorado.

While taking his undergraduate work before World War II, at Santa Barbara State, he also worked for the city recreation department as a playground and activities supervisor in "problem areas."

The soft spoken Coloradan served for three years in the Army during World War II, and he spent 18 months in combat as a medical technician with the 26th Infantry Division in Europe.

After the war he returned to Santa Barbara State for refresher work, instructed in summer school, and also took a museum course under the College's auspices at the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History. Here he received straight A's from Egmont Rhett, famous western taxidermist.

Mr. and Mrs. Hice now reside at 228 Stanley Drive, Burlingame, along with their four children, two of which, Andy and Donny, are twins.

PLATINUM AIDS INDUSTRY

Known for many years as a precious metal used for fine jewelry, platinum serves today in many other ways. One of its new and important uses is as a catalyst in producing high-octane gasoline and other petroleum products. Substantial quantities of platinum already are serving the oil refining industry which has undertaken a large expansion program based on the use of platinum catalysts.

SPECIAL FALL DEER HUNTS APPROVED BY COMMISSION

Eight out of 16 special antlerless or either-sex deer hunting seasons, proposed by sportsmen and landowners, have been approved by the California Fish and Game Commission and will be held this fall.

A total of 4,530 deer, including 2,600 of either sex and 1,330 antlerless, will be taken by special permit.

As a result of local public hearings on the proposals, commissioners turned down requests for other special seasons in portions of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego counties.

Sportsmen and landowners groups had urged the special hunts to alleviate local crop depredations by deer and to harvest deer on areas closed during the high fire hazard season.

Applications to participate in one of the special hunts, which are attached to 1954 deer tags, must be filled in and mailed to the department's Sacramento office, 926 "J" Street, before August 16. Hunters are limited to one hunt, and must specify which they are applying for on the application. Eligibles will be notified by mail following the lottery drawing on August 30.

Applicants for the San Benito special hunt must appear in person between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., August 21, at a Hollister location to be announced later. The drawing will be held there at 3 p.m. the same day.

SPECIFIC DETAILS OF HUNTING SEASON

Details of the special hunting seasons, which are in addition to the 1954 general deer hunting seasons, follow:

Sierra foothills zone I (Nevada, Yuba, Placer counties)—1,000 either sex; two hunt periods: Oct. 11-17 for first 500 permits, Oct. 18-24 for second 500.

Sierra foothills zone II (El Dorado, Placer, Sacramento, Amador counties)—1,000 either sex; two hunt periods: Oct. 4-10 for first 500 permits, Oct. 11-17 for second 500.

Capay area (Yolo county)—1,000 antlerless; two hunt periods: Oct. 25-31 for first 500, Nov. 1-7 for second 500.

Barton's Flat (Fresno and Tulare counties)—400 either sex; four periods with 100 permits each: Nov. 18-20, Nov. 21-23; Nov. 25-27 and Nov. 28-30.

San Joaquin River unit (San Joaquin, Fresno, Madera counties)—600 either sex, between Oct. 27 and 31.

San Benito county—264 public and 66 landowners' permit to be issued for an antlerless hunt through application in person at Hollister Aug. 21; three hunt periods: 110 permits each: Sept. 18-19, Sept. 25-26 and Oct. 2-3.

Glennville area (Tulare and Kern counties)—200 either sex; 100 each Oct. 28-30 and Oct. 31 to Nov. 2.

Commissioners also approved a special hunting season for Camp Pendleton, limited to Marine Corps personnel only. The 260 antlerless deer and 45 bucks to be taken will be studied on the spot by the State's wildlife disease laboratory staff.

BETTER HUNTING, FISHING PLAN PROPOSED BY STATE WOULD COST $42 MILLION

When California has some three million hunters and fishermen in 1965, the State's wildlife resources won't continue to hold up without financial investments in addition to expected license sale revenues. The authority is Director Seth Gordon of Fish and Game. He told members of four legislative committees at a recent joint meeting in Sacramento that an additional capital investment of $42,565,000 will be needed in the next 10 years to maintain fish and game resources.

The four committees are studying plans under which the state's share of tidelands oil royalties can be spent. They are the Assembly subcommittee on public lands, grazing and forest practice, the Senate interim committee on public lands, the Assembly committee on agriculture and the Assembly committee on conservation, planning and public works.

The broad conservation and recreation program outlined by Gordon called for an estimated average annual maintenance and operational expenditure of $3,560,000. Until the basic plan is in full operation, the operational costs would average $1,780,000 annually.

With an announced intention of making more fish and wildlife resources available to more Californians, Gordon's 10-year program leaned heavily on the acquiring of hunting and fishing rights and access strips to non-inaccessible recreational areas. All the proposals are in addition to the regular operations of the Department, which are taking about $8,000,000 a year. He cited the 33 per cent increase in the number of licensed sportsmen in the last eight years as an indicator of skyrocketing recreational needs of California citizens. Extending the present rate of increase of 1965, Gordon predicted a minimum of 2,000,000 fishermen and 936,000 hunters.

By 1975, when California is expected to have a population of 20,000,000, the number of sportsmen would total 4,286,000. How to assure them outdoor opportunities as good or better than in 1954, Gordon said, is a problem now being considered by his department.

In the last 10 years, Gordon revealed, approximately $62,000,000 has been spent in California for the conservation and maintenance of fish and game. Except for $12,000,000 provided by pari-mutuel funds, all of the expenditures have come from license, fine and tax funds of the Department. None of the money has come from the state's general tax revenues, Gordon pointed out.

Marine fisheries work, in addition to the normal operations of the department, would cost $7,100,000 in the next 10 years. Acquisition and development of access roads or trails between public roads and ocean beaches would amount to $4,000,000. A similar program for salt water bays calls for an expenditure of $750,000.

Pollution studies and control, intensified marine surveys and development of potential fisheries are also listed.

The improvement and maintenance of the State's salmon and steelhead fisheries by means of stream clearance, barrier removal, river mouth improvement, coastal stream flow maintenance, artificial propagation and water project control called for $3,950,000.

An expanded inland fisheries program, with emphasis on warm-water fishing development, purchase of access strips, increased catchable-size trout production and stream and lake improvement, would cost a total of $11,500,000. Annual maintenance costs would come to about $795,000.

In summarizing the costs of the far-reaching program, Gordon said $20,000,000 would be needed to provide additional hunting opportunities. This would include acquisition and development of waterfowl management areas, big game winter lands and improvement of upland game habitat. Maintenance and operation costs would amount to an estimated $2,700,000 per year.

NEW HATCHERY DEDICATED

The new $692,000 Moccasin Creek trout hatchery in Tuolumne county was formally dedicated at the June meeting of the Wildlife Conservation board and will begin its mission of producing 300,000 fingerlings and 400,000 catchable-sized fish annually.

Wish savings from the basic construction contract, the three-man board authorized the construction of 12 additional rearing ponds. When completed, this will bring the hatchery's production of catchables to 688,000.

The board, custodian of pari-mutuel funds earmarked for capital construction projects in wildlife conservation, deferred action on a $262,500 development plan for the Lower Butte Creek waterfowl management area. The proposed Buena Vista lagoon waterfowl area project was dropped and its $75,000 allocation returned to the Board's unallocated reserve.

Construction of a low sub-dam in the Dallas-Warner reservoir, Stanislaus county, at a cost of $8,000, was the only new project authorized at the meeting.

AGENCIES SET FOR HUNGRY DUCKS

The probability that 1954 will bring greater waterfowl crop damage problems than the previous year has caused the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the California Department of Fish and Game to make their joint plans for depredation relief earlier than usual.

"Maximum assistance" to California farmers was pledged by Department Director Seth Gordon and the U. S. F. W. S. Regional Director Leo Laythe, following a recent day-long meeting in Sacramento with their staffs.

The two agency heads announced that a record high of 15,300 acres

Lightweights Steal Show In Recreation Basketball League

Overshadowing the varsity tilt, the lightweight cagers from Brisbane and Westmoor put on a top show Tuesday night as the Brisbane capitalizes on driving lay-ups and long set shots to win, 34 to 32.

Both teams have previously been undefeated in the summer recreation basketball league. The lead see-sawed back and forth throughout most of the game until Brisbane's Lee Poston started hitting consistently. Poston had a total of 18 for the evening, leading all scorers. Firth and Wallace paced the losers with ten markers apiece.

The varsity game was a lack-luster affair, marked by poor passing and uninspired play as Brisbane knocked over the Westmoor club, 41 to 17.

Never in danger, Brisbane took an early lead and never relinquished it. At half-time Westmoor could have just as well showered and gone home, as they trailed 22 to 4.

Bernard Milliron, Don Delbon's able replacement, led both teams with 14 points, controlled both backboards and exhibited general hustle. Scott was runner-up with 10 tallies for Brisbane. John Madden topped Westmoor scoring with nine.

The Westmoor five were at some disadvantage, playing without the services of high-scoring John Robinson.

THREE RUN 5th GIVES SAN JOSE WIN OVER SARTO

San Jose tallied three times in the fifth frame on four hits to top Sarto A.C., 3 to 1, in a Sunday contest.

Bill Arata, Sarto second sacker, scored his team's lone run in the seventh frame.

Don Henson opened as pitcher for the athletic club, giving up six hits, three runs, while walking none and striking out one.

Lowell Creighton worked in relief for Sarto's, pitching effectively as he held San Jose hitless, whiffing seven batters, walking none and allowing no runs.

Both club's played steady ball and several outstanding defensive plays were made.

This Sunday's outing finds Sarto facing New Rex Restaurant at Marchbanks park, beginning at 2 p.m.

ENTER FOURTH ROUND

Daly City Suffers Double Drubbing In Summer League

Playing ball in the afternoon after the morning games were cancelled due to fog and wet grounds, the Summer Baseball league went into its fourth round Saturday.

The Brisbane diamond, which is being used this summer for the first time, featured two of the best games of the day. In the Junior league division, the Brisbane squad trimmed the Eagles from Daly City, 9 to 3. Both teams were tied for first place. Winning pitcher for Brisbane was "Lefty" Jim Datzman with a 3-0 record. Jim went the route striking out 12 Eagles, allowed seven scattered hits and walked only one batter.

The hustling Brisbane team got nine runs on 14 hits and six walks. Leading hitters for Brisbane were Barry Haenen, left fielder with four for five, Don Anderson shot-slugger with three for four and right fielder, Wayne Lewis with two singles in four trips. In the second game of the afternoon double-header, the Brisbane Tigers upset the Daly City Raiders by the score of 7 to 3. This game gave the Tigers their first win of the season.

Winning pitcher was Walter Carlson who went the distance as he struck out 15 Raiders, allowed five safeties and five walks. The Daly City Raider pitcher, Will Smith, exhibited wildness which kept him in trouble most of the contest. He issued 13 walks but only three hits.

John Galten, Brisbane catcher, got a triple and Josh Guellony of the Raiders connected for a homer deep into left field.

In another Junior league contest a strong second place Sharp Park team held the Suds to two singles as Tex Prentice easily pitched his best effort of the season. Prentice fanned 12 batters, walked one and allowed only two hits late in the game. Spoiling his bid for a no hitter was Rich Swickert, Suds pitcher, and his teammate Bill Schredel, who collected singles. Sharp Park jumped on Swickert early in the first inning for five runs, six hits and two costly errors. Swickert then settled down and pitched good ball only allowing three more scattered hits.

Bat leaders for Sharp Park were Bill Pushman, Tex Prentice, Frank Willis, Lon Caldwell, Harry Caldwell and Phil Twitty. Final score was Sharp Park, 5, Suds, 1.

Stomper A. C. beat Broadmoor for their first win of the season 14 to 7 and Sharp Park shut out the D. C. Arrows 9 to 0. All other games which were canceled will be rescheduled for future dates.

RICH MORALES HURLS MIDGETS INTO LEAD WITH PERFECT GAME

Going into the fifth round of play in the Midget Baseball league, the circuit's two power houses met in a crucial game to break a tie for first place.

The classy D. C. Midgets, headed by Manager Lowell Creighton Sr., and the snappy Broadmoor Yankees, managed by Bud Christman, played before a small crowd in two hours of thrilling baseball.

The first no-hit, no-run game was in the books as poked-faced Rich Morales struck out ten batters, exhibited good control in walking one man and allowing no hits for five innings, as the Midgets topped Broadmoor, 1 to 0. After pitching his classic no-hit, no-run game he stated with a big smile, "Gee, I sure feel good now."

The key play that scored the winning tally came in the Midget fourth frame as Bill Kane drew a walk, Barry Krohn popped up, and Rich Morales was hit by a pitched ball. With runners on first and second, Vic Kulick took a 3-2 count and hit a screaming line drive to his off field into right and thereby scoring Kane. Morales went to third. Catcher Jim Kollman walked; then the equally classy south paw Terry Christman struck out the next two batters to end the frame. Christman, Yankee pitcher, was just as effective as Morales, since he struck out 12 Midget batters, allowed two hits and walked two men.

This victory places the Midgets in first place.

MOORS REPEAT AGAINST COLMA GRAVEDIGGERS

Varsity Wins, 51 to 46, As Robinson Hits 19

Westmoor made it two in a row last week by defeating the Colma Gravediggers in the "A" and "B" contests of the Daly City Recreation Summer Basketball league.

The Moors' varsity aggregation turned back the Diggers, 51 to 46, as aggressive John Robinson led the winners with 19 markers.

John Madden, who controlled both backboards, was runner-up for the Moors in scoring, tallying 15 markers, while Dick Hopman added 10 for the winners.

Scoring was evenly divided for the losers, with Babe Anguillo racking up 10, followed by Al Figue with nine, and Al Lagomarsino and Wally Honeywell hitting for eight apiece.

The second quarter was the deciding factor in the Westmoor victory, with the Moors outscoring the Diggers, 17 to 12.

Madden was ejected from the game in the fourth quarter via the foul route, but the Moors employed ball control to stave off the losers' closing rally.

The Moor lightweights were also victorious, topping the Spooks, 30 to 22.

Lee Poston got 14 markers to pace the winners, while Bob Mion dropped in 12, high for the Spooks.

PIRATE CHUCKER TWIRLS SECOND PERFECT GAME

Phil Fair, Broadmoor Pirates pitcher, tossed his second no-hit, no-run game last Thursday as he downed the Brisbane Tigers, 3 to 0, in a Little League contest held at Jefferson High diamond.

Fair fashioned his first perfect game two weeks ago when his club trounced the Daly City arrows, 20 to 0.

Timely hits by Bill Dougherty, Fair, Dixie Howell and Webby Parker paced the Pirates to their Thursday win.
